To Advertisers.—The Vermont Daily Transcript has the largest circulation in St. Albans and in Franklin County, of any daily paper, and is on that account, if no other, the best medium for advertising.

Local Items.

Interesting matter, original or selected, may always be found on the first page.

OUR DAILY.—Those wishing to secure copies of our daily paper can do so at Merrifield's and Baker's bookstores, as well as of carriers, and at the office. Copies of our weekly paper may also be had at these places.

NOTICE may be found elsewhere, stating the date of the Commencement of the next term of our schools. Mr. Taylor, who is again at the head of them, we are glad to know, has recently returned from Boston, where he has purchased about $400 worth of school apparatus, of which the school stood greatly in need.

THE VILLAGE LIBRARY.—Nearly two hundred volumes of new books have recently been added to the St. Albans Library, many of which are especially intended for the young. We notice that all of the works of Mrs. Muhlbach are included in the new purchase, besides various other works of interest, both in the line of light and heavy reading. The books in the library are being covered in good paper, and otherwise improved, where attention to binding was required. The rooms are now nicely fitted up, in Barnes' Block, and about the first of September will again be opened to let out books.

AGED PREACHER.—Rev. Father Parmelee will deliver his sixtieth annual sermon at Westford on Monday the 31st inst., where he preached the first sermon after his ordination.

The New England News Company, of Boston, send us a Political Manual for the campaign of 1868, for use in the New England States, containing the population and latest election returns of every town in New England, and of every State in the Union, Party Platforms, and other valuable information, by S. A. McPherson. It appears to be compiled carefully and judiciously. It may be ordered through Mr. Baker, St. Albans Bookstore, Lake Street.

BASE BALL.—It is expected that a match game of base ball will come off before long between the Plattsburg Club and our Eagles, and ground has been prepared for the occasion on the meadows of Mr. Thorpe, just beyond the Corporation limits, on the south east.

THE Stanstead (Canada) Journal reports that arrangements have been completed by which the Passumpsic road is to be extended to Lennoxville, thirty miles north of the "line," and twenty miles east of Waterloo, the Canada section to be completed by the first of July, 1870, and to be leased to the Passumpsic Corporation. By this route the distance between Quebec and New York will be lessened 65 miles, connection being made with the St. Lawrence and Portland road.

VERMONT VALLEY RAILROAD.—At the annual meeting of the Vt. Valley Railroad Company, held at Bellows Falls on Wednesday Aug. 12, the following officers were elected for 1868-9:—Hugh H. Henry, President; I. G. Mead, Clerk; J. H. Williams, Treasurer; Geo. A. Merrill, General Superintendent. Directors, Hugh H. Henry, Gouverneur Morris, Alexander Hamilton, Jr., G. R. J. Bowdoin, Charles Chapin, Joel Page, J. H. Williams.—We have seen it stated that this is the seventeenth year of Mr. Henry's presidency of the road, and that he is the oldest Railroad president in New England.

BRATTLEBORO.—The Baptist church in Brattleboro is to have a new bell, weighing 4,500 pounds.

The school opened by Miss Richmond in Masonic Hall for the instruction of children in calisthenics and dancing, is a success. An evening school for ladies and gentlemen has been opened, and Brattleboro is now "on its muscle."

The Phanix says: "A night-blooming cereus at the greenhouse of Richards Bradley, contains four buds which are expected to blossom next week.—Should they all come into bloom on the same night, the effect would indeed be beautiful and extraordinary. Due notice will be given of the event so that those wishing to see so rare a spectacle may have an opportunity."

The same paper says: "A new opportunity for the 'irrepressible' spread of our village will be afforded by the opening of a new street from the Western Avenue, near the house of Edward Crosby, south to the 'gulf road,' so called. The land is owned by Mr. Crosby, and a street through there will open up a large number of desirable building lots. Let the work be pushed." It might aid the "spread" of Brattleboro, or "any other" place, if it would introduce walks two planks in width, the planks being about six inches in width. It would encourage those using them, and those who might desire to settle in town. It would also encourage sobriety—and profanity.

The Argus says a singular case of desertion has recently occurred at West Wardboro. On Tuesday, July 28, Pardon Wellman, of West Wardboro, was married to Elizabeth Leinen, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., at the former place. The next Friday morning his wife left him with a man, an entire stranger to him, never to return, and without assigning any reason for her strange conduct. Mr. Wellman had no notice of her going more than fifteen minutes before her departure.

DEATH OF JOHN MYERS.—We have to announce with sadness, the death of John Myers of Rouse's Point, N. Y., which event occurred on Saturday August 23rd. Mr. Myers, was a native of Ireland, but removed to Burlington, Vermont, in early life and for many years was an important and responsible employee of Follett & Bradley, Bradley & Canfield, and other old forwarding firms of Burlington. For fifteen years past Rouse's Point has been his home. At that important point, he discharged successfully the laborious duties of Station Agent, first for the Vt. Central, then the Montreal and Champlain, and afterwards to the time of his death was the Agent of the G. T. Railway, there. For a great number of years he has been the Chief Customs agent at that point, and from his great experience and knowledge of the laws of importation, warehousing, &c., was considered one of the most able agents on the frontier. "An honest faithful, energetic, business man, he had large influence with all with whom he came in contact, and his death is a severe loss.—Mr. Myers, was the father of Messrs. P. H. & F. W. Myers, and Mrs. M. B. McDonough of Rouse's Point, and of the late Dr. John T. Myers." His funeral services will be held to-morrow at 8 o'clock a. m. at Rouse's Point. The Steamer "Boston" will run especially from thence to Burlington, where the funeral will be continued from St. Mary's Cathedral, and his remains will finally rest in the original city of his adoption.

REAL ESTATE.—We understand that Mr. H. C. Adams has purchased the residence of Mr. Charles Kibby, on Ferris Avenue, for $5,000. Mr. Adams has secured a very pretty place.

WHITE ROBIN.—Mr. Henry Robinson, of South Hero, has been in possession of a white robin. He was having out of its nest in an apple tree and was captured. Its eyes were pink, and it was near-sighted. Of course it was an albino. It had become a great pet, and would sing the notes of the robin with peculiar sweetness. On Saturday week Mrs. Robinson gave it the freedom of the sitting room when it ventured into the yard as it had done before, but would always promptly return. Mrs. Robinson called for "Dick." At this time it attracted the attention of the swallows who seemed disposed to make a general fight on so strange a bird, which so frightened it that it flew away and has not been recovered. Its loss is the cause of much regret.—Times.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT AT ST. JOHNSBURY.—A monument erected to the memory of the Vermont soldiers who were killed in the present civil war was unveiled Thursday at St. Johnsbury. The monument which stands in a little square in front of the Court House is surmounted by a marble statue of America which forms the crowning beauty of the whole. This is the work of the young Vermont sculptor, Larkin G. Mead. The statue is of Italian marble and colossal standing eight feet in high. Gilmore's Band of Boston was present at the ceremony. Many buildings were decorated in honor of the occasion and business was generally suspended.—Times.

Vermont Historical Society.

The Historical Society continued its session on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Pliny H. White of Coventry read an interesting biographical sketch of the life of Hon. Theophilus Harrington of Clarendon, who was for many years Judge of the Supreme Court of Vermont. The paper was well written and interspersed with anecdotes which put the audience in good humor.

A. E. Hager of Proctorsville then read an elaborate and interesting paper on "Paris and the Exposition of 1866," which gave the result of his observations of the exhibition, and description of the city of Paris and views of its public institutions, and the status of society in France, giving comparisons between French and American, pointing out in what respects he considered the former superior to the latter. Mr. Hager's paper was well received by his auditors, and gave all new views of France, and especially of Parisian society and manners.

At the late hour to which the forenoon exercises of the Society were prolonged by the length of papers presented, Rev. John A. Hicks, D. D., of Burlington, had not an opportunity to read his paper, prepared for the occasion, on the "Church Lands in Vermont." Mr. Hicks was obliged by other engagements to leave town before the afternoon session.

AFTERNOON.

At two o'clock the Society re-assembled. A paper was then read by Henry Clark of Rutland, upon "The Life and Service of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens." His Congressional career was presented as one of the most important features of his public life, and concluding with an estimate of the peculiar characteristics of his labors, and the most marked elements which entered into the character of this distinguished son of Vermont—the great American Commoner.

Henry Hall, Esq., of Rutland, then read a novel and entertaining history of forts in Rutland County, and especially in Rutland. The history of the forts of the Revolution were sketched in short, after which the speaker proceeded to give a definite history and description of the two Rutland forts, the main one being located at Centre Rutland, on the bluff of land near the Falls at that place, which served the purpose of a rendezvous for the United States army in this part of Vermont, and was called Fort Ranger. The second fort was established at the head of West Street, near where George H. Cheney's store, on Main Street, now stands. Several extracts from military orders were read which showed the number of troops stationed there at various times, and explaining several of the causes why they were sent there. Mr. Hall's paper was of great local importance to the history of Rutland, and valuable in its relation to the history of the State. Mr. Hall's sketch was the concluding paper of the session.

On motion of Chauncey K. Williams, it was voted, That the authors of the several papers read at this special session of the Society be requested to deposit copies of them in the archives of the Society, that they may be published in the transactions of the Society.

The meeting of the Society has been a decided success in its collection of valuable historical papers, literary merit, accession of new members and contributions to its collections. Great credit is due to Henry Hall, Esq., and Francis A. Fisher, Esq., of Rutland, for their exertions in making arrangements and extending courtesies to the members from abroad.

THE CELESTIAL VISITORS

PHILADELPHIA, 24. The negro Alfred Alexander, who some months ago murdered a negress named Proctor and who was to be hung in this city to-morrow, has been respited by Gov. Geary to Sept. 8.

NEW YORK, 24. The weather is close and muggy.

NEW YORK, 24. A Porto Rico letter of Aug. 8, states that the island was in such a state that a rebellion or a revolution against the Spanish government was probable at any moment. The taxes were enormous and the collection rigidly enforced. The Governor-General in the meantime was alleviating the suffering as much as possible by succession of the amusements. Bull fights had been introduced. Many atrocities, however were committed by the authorities.

NEW YORK, 24. A telegram from White Sulphur Springs West Virginia states that Gen. Rosecrans was there for the purpose of consulting with Gen. Lee and other southern Generals in
